Several pistols and revolvers and an estimated 10,000 rounds of ammunition were taken from the Potter Brothers sporting goods store, 294 Fair street, by a burglar or burglars who entered the building between Friday night and Saturday morning, it was learned today.

The owners of the store estimated their loss at "possibly" $500 and said they were of the opinion that the person or persons who entered the place appeared to be more concerned with firearms than with other items.

Considerable cash was taken from the store also, the owners said, but since the vouchers were also taken, it is impossible to arrive at the exact amount. It is possible, they reported, that other articles may have been taken, but this will not be known until a complete check of the stock is made.

The theft as reported by the owners included: two six and three-quarter inch, high standard 22 calibre pistols; one H. & R. 22 calibre revolver; one four and one-half inch barrel, high standard 22 calibre pistol; one Benjamin air pistol and one Crossman air pistol.

Entrance to the building was gained through a rear door and thieves indicated that the thief or thieves left the premises through an adjoining yard and an alley leading into John street.

Two boards were pried loose from an outer batten door and a lower panel removed from the inner door.

Most of the ammunition was taken from two lower shelves to the right of the rear door.

Truman Ready to Sign the Republican Anti-Inflation Bill

Gen. Hasbrouck to Address Kiwanis,
Rotary Wednesday

MAJ. GEN. R. W. HASBROUCK

Major General Robert W. Hasbrouck will address a joint meeting of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs on Wednesday. General Hasbrouck is a native of Kingston and was appointed to West Point from this congressional district. In World War I, following his graduation from West Point, he served as captain with an artillery unit overseas.

Between wars he served at various military points in the United States. From 1936-1941 he served on the general staff in Washington. Early in 1942 he was sent to Ireland as Chief of Staff with the First Armored division to train troops. After about four months he returned to Fort Knox, Ky., and Camp Polk, La.

In September, 1943, General Hasbrouck was again sent to the European theatre of operations. In October of that year he was given command of the 7th Armored division. As commanding general of the 7th Armored Division his record won him the Legion of Merit.

From October, 1943, to September, 1944, he was deputy chief of staff of Bradley's 12th Army Group. General Hasbrouck was cited for his accomplishments in this assignment. He took a prominent part in planning for the invasion of the European continent by establishing and building up the newly activated headquarters and determining administrative policies. He also effected the integration of a smoothly functioning staff. His citation states: "His superior leadership initiative and foresight contributed greatly to the success of the planning mission and of subsequent operations."

Later General Hasbrouck was awarded the Silver Star by General Hodges for gallantry in action when he personally directed his division's operations in the vicinity of St. Vith to halt the German drive on Liege.

Along with the previously mentioned awards General Hasbrouck holds the Distinguished Service Medal, the Bronze Star for valor and numerous foreign decorations.

President Brands It
Pitifully Inadequate to Deal With the Grave Peril

By FRANCIS E. LE MAY

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—President Truman promised to sign into law today the Republican anti-inflation bill, but he branded it as "pitifully inadequate" to deal with the "grave peril" confronting the nation's economy.

Several key Republicans struck back with angry words of their own in defense of the voluntary steps which form the backbone of the G.O.P. measure.

Thus the high cost of living and how to bring it down sizzled as the major political issue to start off the 1948 election year.

Mr. Truman took the unusual course of issuing a Sunday statement to announce his decision and to declare that if Congress does not give him better weapons to fight inflation the country may face a "serious depression."

He left the actual signing until today, at an hour which the White House did not specify. The measure becomes effective immediately once it is signed.

The first official action to carry out its provisions appeared likely to be an order to distillers to hold their grain consumption to 2,500,000 bushels a month during the five weeks the bill revives Mr. Truman's wartime powers over whiskey making.

A 60-day voluntary distilling program came to an end Christmas Eve with the government and major distillers at odds over a new conservation program.

The bill also extends the President's controls over exports and railroad transportation and provides for voluntary food programs. It does not give him the standby price-wage control and rationing powers he asked for in his 10-point program laid before the special session.

Acting Reluctantly
Hence Mr. Truman said he was acting "reluctantly" and with a "sense of deep disappointment" that the Congress "has seen fit to take such feeble steps toward the control of inflation."

Centering his fire on the bill's provisions for voluntary agreements in industry, business and agriculture to share scarce materials without incurring the risk of anti-trust prosecution, the Chief Executive declared: "It is far too late in the fight against inflation to place our reliance upon voluntary action."

"This bill fails to include the key measures which are essential to an effective anti-inflation program," Mr. Truman asserted. "This bill will not reduce the high cost of living, and it will not keep prices from going even higher."

Mr. Truman also was critical of the section asking him to submit detailed recommendations for allocating or rationing scarce goods. Besides being a departure from "established practice for the Congress to enact regulatory measures in general terms," the President said even if the suggested legislation were forthcoming too much time would be lost.

Dewey Says Voluntary Fuel Oil Cut to Help

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—State Public Works Superintendent Charles H. Wells mapped an emergency fuel oil program today at Governor Dewey's command in the face of a shortage estimated at 15 per cent under home heating demands.

Dewey, in appointing Wells fuel coordinator to work with localities and industry for voluntary conservation, said yesterday major producers already had promised to pool supplies "wherever possible to take care of the demand arising from 100,000 new oil heating units in the state."

The governor said that a voluntary 15 per cent reduction in consumption would forestall a full-blown crisis but that "it appears a seven and one-half per cent saving is more likely to result despite the most widespread efforts."

Truman Physician, 80 U. S. Workers Listed Speculators

Utah's Governor Maw Is Among Traders, Also
Military Officers;
Capitol Silent

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, President Truman's personal physician, and Gov. H. B. Maw of Utah were among 99 public officials named by the Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today as speculating in grain last September.

The 99 including 80 federal government employees, counting military officers as federal employees. The others work for state or local governments.

Graham, asked for comment, told reporters he would have a statement later.

He was reported to have held 30,000 bushels of wheat on the "long" side of the market and 20,000 bushels on the short side on September 17.

He also was reported to have sold 10,000 bushels on September 19.

Governor Maw was listed as having held 5,000 bushels on the long side of the market on September 17 and to have sold the same amount on September 18.

Those on the "long" side of the market believe prices will go higher and accordingly buy grain for speculation.

Chief Boss Funeral Held on Saturday

Police From Hudson Valley
Communities, Many Friends Attend

With police delegations from Saugerties, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Beacon in attendance, the funeral of Police Chief Ernest A. Boss, who had directed the Kingston Police Department since May 1, 1946, was held from the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Edward V. Winder, D.D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, Kingston. Burial took place in Montrose Cemetery.

There was a large gathering of friends and relatives and a profusion of beautiful floral offerings.

Chief Boss, a member of the local department since June 11, 1928, died Wednesday shortly after 1 p. m. at the Kingston Hospital, where he had been a patient since early in November, after a local automobile accident.

Death Unexpected
Hundreds of patrolmen from Kingston and other towns and cities throughout the Hudson Valley area, friends and relatives and city and county officials paid tribute to the chief during the time the body was at the funeral home. His death came as a shock to many as he had been reported well on the way to recovery until he took a turn for the worse last Monday and sank rapidly.

Despite the inclement weather Friday, various organizations were represented at the funeral home to pay final respects. Friday, 6 p. m. the Kingston fire department, led by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, called, and was followed at 7 p. m. by the Kingston police department, Acting Chief Raymond Van Buren and the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, chaplain.

Other organizations holding brief services Friday included the B.P.O. of Elks 550, at 8 p. m., Kingston Lodge 97, Loyal Order of Moose, and at 8:30 p. m., the Kingston Radio Club.

The honorary escort for the funeral included Mayor William F. Edelmuth, police commissioners, fire commissioners, city officials, state troopers, representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the sheriff's office, the Kingston fire department, led by Chief Murphy, the Kingston Patrolmen's Association with Lieut. Patrick J. Rosell in charge. The group opened ranks and stood at attention both at the funeral home and at the burial.

Bearers, all members of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, were Kenneth Hyatt, president; Edward Leonard, Joseph Fallon, Lemuel Howard, Walter Fitzgerald and George Bowers.

Alexandria, Egypt, Dec. 29 (AP)—Vittorio Emanuele III, 78, the diminutive king whose 20 years of subservience to Benito Mussolini led to the downfall of the House of Savoy and 'nearly brought about the ruin of Italy, died in exile of pneumonia yesterday, at his Alexandria villa.

The former king was stricken with double pneumonia Wednesday while preparing to celebrate Christmas with his family.

Auto Slips Jack, Pins Baldinger

Wrentham Street Resident
Has Broken Collar
Bone, Bruises

Ernest Baldinger, 20, of 95 Wrentham street, received a broken collar bone and other injuries when the car under which he was working fell from its jacks and pinned him underneath, about 3:30 p. m. Sunday.

Police and firemen who responded to a call from relatives of the youth found that he had been freed from under the automobile by two men, Robert Jones of 105 Wrentham street, and Clyde Miller of Saugerties. He was taken into the house by these men and Dr. Mortimer B. Downer was summoned, who ordered him taken to Kingston Hospital. His condition was reported today as good, and he will be discharged this afternoon, hospital authorities said.

According to the police, the car had been jacked up, and the right rear wheel was off. The jack evidently slipped or gave way, police said, and the car fell upon Baldinger's left shoulder.

When they received the call, police immediately called for aid from the fire department, and summoned the wrecker from Doc Smith's Garage. Patrolmen Grover Hoffman and Earl Schoonmaker were sent in a radio car, and the fire department sent Truck Number 1, the aerial truck from Central station.

On arriving, police and firemen found that Jones and Miller had already freed Baldinger by lifting the automobile off him. One fireman said that it must have taken a superhuman effort to lift the car, since there were several large concrete blocks in the rear of the car.

Is $12.56 Over Last Year's Rate

Amount to be Raised
Exceeds Two Per Cent
Tax Limitation by $400,000

$962,928 Needed

Will Be Submitted to Common Council
January 6

The tentative city budget for 1948, showing an increase of almost $200,000 in the cost of operating the general government over that of last year, was made public today by Mayor William F. Edelmuth at a hearing in the city hall.

The amount to be raised by taxation exceeds the two per cent tax limitation by "about $400,000," Mayor Edelmuth said.

Mayor-elect Oscar V. Newkirk, after examining the proposed budget, said that the adoption of this budget would result in a tax rate of $48.68 per thousand, an increase of $12.56 over last year's rate.

Most of the increased cost in operating government is due to salary increases voted to city employees during the year by the various department commissioners, the Common Council, and, in the case of the police department, the voters at the last election.

George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for the Kingston Metal Trades Council, asked at the hearing whether employees have been properly recompensed for the rising cost of living, to which Mayor Edelmuth replied, "They have, Mr. Yerry. There are increases for about everybody."

Included in the tentative budget is an item of $160,671.76 for the fire department, which includes pay increases for firemen, equal to those received last month by members of the police department, according to Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, secretary of the Board of Fire Commissioners. Chief Murphy said that the fire commissioners had voted recently to include these increases in the budget.

Also included in the budget submitted by the mayor are increases for employees of the Board of Public Works, who were granted the

Famous Betsy Ross Home, Industrial Building Burned

Philadelphia, Dec. 29 (AP)—Philadelphia's fourth major fire withing 24 hours—coming in the wake of a heavy snowfall that hampered the efforts of firemen—destroyed five industrial buildings and damaged a half dozen adjoining structures with a loss estimated at $1,000,000.

The latest blaze yesterday—bringing to about $1,500,000 the damage caused by major fires in the 24-hour period—struck in a downtown manufacturing district interspersed with such historic landmarks as Christ Church, a half block from the scene, and the house occupied by Betsy Ross when she made the first American flag, 200 yards away.

The destroyed buildings—all five-story structures—contained the quarters of a score of firms, including clothing companies, shoe, electrical appliance and printing concerns.

Nine of the 400 firemen summoned to the scene were injured. Two of them sustaining leg fractures in the collapse of a wall, before the blaze was brought under control four and a half hours after the first alarm was turned in by an early morning churchgoer.

Eleven families were routed from their homes adjoining the destroyed or damaged buildings as a precautionary measure.

The three other major fires in the Philadelphia area over the week-end destroyed a five-story industrial building at 939-41 North Front street with damage estimated at $200,000, a large paper box factory at Third and Spring Garden streets with a $100,000 loss and thousands of gallons of oil after a blast at the Gulf Oil Corporation refinery in southwest Philadelphia.

Storm in New England
Boston, Dec. 29 (AP)—High winds and sub-freezing temperatures created new hazards today for travelers in New England after the winter's worst storm that left 20 dead and up to two feet of snow in outlying areas. All main highways have been plowed but are still slippery in spots. Drifting snow, whipped by 20 to 30 miles an hour northwest winds, threatens to block some of them again.

Rail and air travel out of Boston is almost back to normal. Flights to LaGuardia Field, New York, have not been resumed. While low-freezing temperatures are forecast for a couple of days, official U. S. meteorologists in Boston predicted clear weather with no new snow in sight.

Vets Must Cooperate To Speed Up Bonus

Speed of processing applications for the New York State World War bonuses will depend "to a large extent" on cooperation of applying veterans, State Veterans Counselors Donald Moore and Morgan Ryan and Director Howard C. Shuster of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency said today.

If applications are complete and accurate, it was pointed out, they can be processed without delay when they are reached. If an application is incomplete or some of the required proofs are missing, or if the form is not notarized, the veteran will delay his own payment.

Bonus application forms will be available on and after December 31, at the agency office, 240 Fair street, and all veterans may receive free notarization and complete assistance in preparing their applications.

It was stressed, however, that the bonus law does not become effective until January 1, 1948, and that applications may not be executed or filed earlier.

In order to be of greater assistance to veterans the Service Agency office will be open Friday and Saturday, January 2 and 3, from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. On Sunday, January 4, they will be open from 1 p. m. until 5 p. m. From Monday, January 5, through Friday, January 9, the office will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Three Vacationists Die As Small Plane Explodes
Johnstown, Pa., Dec. 29 (AP)—The crash of a small plane brought death to three young men as they started out from their homes for a vacation flight to Miami, Fla.

Those killed in the crash yesterday were Aaron Bigan, 18, Robert Heichel, 22, and James Morey, 19, Coroners Paul L. Willis said.

Willis said there were no eye-witnesses but a farmer living near the scene said he heard an explosion before the plane struck the ground. The three victims had intended flying to Washington on the first leg of their trip, Willis said.

It is owned by a local doctor and had been repaired for him. The revolver and pistols were taken from a case near the center of the store.

The theft was discovered at about 9 a. m. Saturday by John and Basil Potter when they arrived to open the store. They notified the police and an investigation is in progress.

A carton containing a small transformer had been tampered with but cast aside, and the owners of the store reported that it is possible that other miscellaneous items have been taken.

Boards on the outer door had apparently been loosened with a screw driver and the panel of the inner door, removed in a similar manner, the owners said.

The thief or thieves if operating without light, the brothers said, seemed to have little difficulty in locating the type of ammunition desired, and appeared to work with a definite plan in mind as to the make and style of the revolver and pistols taken.

CHILDREN? SCHOOL? CAR? VETERAN? BONUS? Vet's Deductions On Income Tax Returns

For the veteran, this year's Income Tax return may seem more confusing than the pre-war set-up. But it needn't! There are certain items you are allowed to exclude from your taxable income, which you might not have known about.

For instance, you need not include the following as income: Mustering-out pay, state veterans' bonuses, unemployment insurance benefits, disability retirement pay, compensation received for bodily injury or sickness, or proceeds from War Risk insurance.

Also excluded from income are tuition, subsistence and on-the-job training payments by the Government and pension and disability payments made to veterans and their families.

If you were still in service during a portion of 1947, you may deduct expenses for gold braid, insignia, shoulder marks and other items outside of the regular equipment furnished by your branch of service. To deduct these, however, the equipment must have been required.

Where and when to file your Income Tax return? What personal exemptions are you allowed? How to claim a refund? See the complete tax picture given in our Reader Service tax guide, written by tax expert Henry M. Ryan. Save money on your tax return by knowing how to make it out.

Financial and Commercial

By VICTOR EURANK
New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Efforts to revive the stock market were more or less futile today although assorted issues managed to make a little headway.

Dealings quickened at intervals as trends wavered but slowdowns were plentiful. Declines of fractions to a point or so predominated near the fourth hour.

There was some professional short covering and timid buying elsewhere on the idea an upswing might eventuate after the turn of the year. The question of economic development in 1948 accentuated speculative and investment caution and numerous customers either trimmed accounts or stood aside to await coming events.

Losers included Chrysler, General Motors, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad, American Can (at the year's low), Goodyear, Goodrich, I. New Year Resolutions
Now that Christmas day is gone Resolutions fill my heart— I intend to greet the dawn When the old year is past. Resolutions bright and new I shall make on New Year's day And of course I'll keep them too. When the Winter turns to May.

First of all, I'll start for bed Every night at ten o'clock. Then arise and toast the bread While they are still warm and hot. I intend to shovel walks Clean the cellar once a week. And of course I'll keep them too. Waiting for my turn to speak.

I shall hang my hat and coat Where I'm told they ought to be. Never sign another's note When a friend approaches me.

More snow was forecast for western New York tomorrow, following a brief lull in the storm that led to three deaths in upstate areas over the week-end.

Moscow Radio Says Russia Will Send Wheat to Britain

London, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Moscow radio says that under the terms of a trade pact signed Saturday in Moscow, Russia will send Britain 750,000 tons of coarse grain, instead of the 500,000 tons of animal foodstuffs previously reported.

The radio quoted a Tass News Agency dispatch as saying that Russia had guaranteed to deliver the grain between February and next September at "prices agreed upon," but not disclosed.

A spokesman for the British Board of Trade confirmed that the pact was signed, but declined to disclose its details.

Tass said that the British government had "agreed to assist in placing orders in Britain by Soviet import organizations for equipment for mechanization of the (Soviet) timber industry, for plywood factories and saw mills, as well as for electrical and other equipment."

Tass declared that Britain had agreed to render assistance through appropriate trade channels in the purchase of Soviet economic organizations of wool, rubber, aluminum, cocoa beans, coffee and other goods.

More Deadly 'A' Bomb

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Francis B. Sayre, president of the United Nations Trusteeship Council, says the United States is "superbly succeeding" in making the atomic bomb "more deadly, more terrible." Sayre made the assertion in a speech before the American Political Science Association in which he urged this country to stand ahead with the Marshall plan for European recovery regardless of a "Soviet campaign of calumny and blistering abuse."

Chief Counsel Named For Black Market Probe

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Rep. Macy (R-N.Y.), chairman of a special House committee to investigate black markets, announced today appointment of John Thomas Reddan, assistant U. S. Attorney General, as chief counsel of the committee.

Reddan, whom Macy said had been "drafted" for the position, served as a prosecutor in the government's successful criminal proceedings against Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, Donald Wakefield Smith and the Garsson munitions combine.

Macy, in a statement announcing the appointment, added that preliminary plans for hearings by the committee have "already been formulated and we are now engaging a competent staff."

"Important witnesses likely will be called after the turn of the year," Macy said, declaring:

"A thorough-going probe that might have far-reaching consequences is in the making and I hope public-spirited citizens will come forward with pertinent information. Much has already been received and we will promptly run down promising leads to 'black markets' and price gouging."

Woman Doctor Released After Serving Murder Term

Chicago, Dec. 29 (AP)—Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, who went to prison 13 years and nine months ago for one of Chicago's most sensational murders, was released yesterday and brought to a hospital here for treatment of heart disease and chronic high blood pressure.

The 77-year-old physician had served the minimum of a 25-year sentence for the slaying of her pretty 23-year-old daughter-in-law.

Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, November 21, 1933.

Rheta, daughter of B. H. Gardner, Indianapolis flour merchant, and wife of the physician's son, Earle, then 27, was found dead on an operating table in the basement surgery of the old Wynekoop mansion in Chicago. Police said a bullet had been fired into her back and heart.

The state contended that Dr. Wynekoop had obtained a $10,000 double indemnity life insurance policy on Rheta a short time previously, then planned the slaying.

"Land of the Shining Mountains" was the original name of Montana.

May the joyous bells ring out the news of a New Year and greetings of joy and success.

Goodsell Is City

ing the time he worked in the building trades he was engaged on many of the larger buildings of the city, working both for himself and also in the employ of others, including his brother, Henry H. Swart.

Experienced Builder

Among the buildings on which he worked while engaged in the construction trade was the Kuhlman Garage property on upper Broadway, the former Palen Livery Stable on Broadway, which was converted into a garage and the gas station at Broadway and St. James street on the site of the former O. M. Kennedy garage, and many other jobs.

Mr. Swart was engaged in the carpenter and building trade practically all his working days until compelled to give up that occupation because of the physical handicap which he suffered. This long experience in the building trades has made him familiar with all types of construction and qualifies him to know property values.

Mr. Swart stated that he would resign his position as machinist with the Ulster Foundry on January first to devote his time to the office of city assessor.

Operated Factory

Oscar A. Goodsell attended Kingston schools and Spencer's Business School.

For 20 years he operated a brick mold factory in this city, known as the H. R. Goodsell Company.

During the Heiselman administration he was connected with the city engineer's office.

Oscar A. Goodsell is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Goodsell. He resides at 43 Crane street with his wife, the former Arletta Walker. He has two children, Roger W. Goodsell of Schenectady and Mrs. John J. Norton, Jr., of Los Alamos, N. M.

He is a member and trustee of the Roundout Presbyterian and Wurts Street Baptist Church.

30 Die in Pirate Battle

Hong Kong, Dec. 29 (AP)—The newspaper Sling Tao Jin reported today from Canton that 30 passengers and the crew of the motorship Chow Lung were killed Friday in an hour-long battle with pirate gunboats on the East river. The report said the ship was sunk.

for example," he said, "it would still take some months to print and distribute the necessary forms and documents."

"Furthermore, lengthy congressional discussion of specific controls would invite speculation, hoarding, dumping and other actions to circumvent whatever program might be established."

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), who sponsored the measure along with Senator Taft (R-Ohio), shot back that if living costs are not brought down "the fault will be that of the President and not of Congress."

Taft, in Kansas City on a speaking tour, reserved comment, but Senator Ball (R-Minn.), a fellow member of the Senate House Economic Committee headed by Taft, said the President's statement "smells a bit of politics."

Democrats who commented supported the Chief Executive's stand. But while most Republicans indicated continued firm opposition to granting the price-wage and rationing powers, Mr. Truman asked, there were these two significant developments:

1. Senator Flanders (R-Vt.), declared in Chicago last night that he had reached the "reluctant conclusion that we will have to institute statutory rationing" of meat. Flanders told the American Economic Association that "the demands for higher wages are supported by increasing living costs."

2. Senator White of Maine, the G.O.P. floor leader, said there should be some sort of Republican-Democratic cooperation on inflation and other big domestic problems as has marked foreign policy issues.

Taft, who also heads the Senate's Republican Policy Committee, told newsmen Saturday that several additional anti-inflation proposals will be laid before the policy group early next week.

He mentioned the extension of rent control, possible regulation of trading on the commodity exchanges, proposed restrictions on bank credit and "other anti-inflation measures."

Too Metropolitan

Oklahoma City, Dec. 29 (AP)—Oklahoma City, often called a great big country town by its own residents, found strip-tease metropolitan for local tastes. After her performance last night at a night spot, police took her entirely off the billing.

New Republic Magazine over its connection with the political future of Wallace, its editor, have been highlighted by the resignation of William Harlan Hale, editor in charge of articles.

Hale, novelist, historian and New Deal Democrat, said yesterday he had mailed his resignation to Michael Straight, publisher.

The reason was reported to be the decision of the magazine not to drop Wallace's writings completely if the former vice president runs for president on a third party ticket next year.

Straight and Bruce Bliven, editorial director of the magazine, confirmed reports of disagreement among senior editors, but Bliven added that the editors frequently disagree on various subjects.

Bus Skids Against Pole

Battle Snow to Deliver Baby in Rural Area
Yonkers, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—It took a snowplow, a jeep, an ambulance and police radio cars from two communities to get medical aid to an expectant mother in a suburban Yonkers home Saturday.

First, police cars from Yonkers and nearby Greenburgh tried to reach the woman, Mrs. Jaunita Philip, and transport her to a hospital. Failing, they appealed to Commissioner of Public Works Howard Snyder, who sent out a snowplow.

Meantime, Lawrence Hospital, had dispatched an ambulance and two doctors in a jeep. With the help of the snowplow, the vehicles got within a quarter of a mile of the home. The two physicians walked the rest of the way through foot-deep snow.

The new baby girl was reported through nicely.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

OTHERS SHARE OPPOBRIUM
Ever since the first night at the Metropolitan Opera, a continuing number of letters from both season subscribers and general public have been asking me to refute the false impression given of New York's "best society" because of the incredibly shocking behavior of an elderly woman with her foot up on a table, pictured in magazines and newspapers as a member of "best society."

There's no point in repeating the details, but it is important to make plain this fact: The behavior of a single individual (as in this instance) can affect the public standing of an overwhelming majority who are worthy of highest esteem. In other words, not only must we keep in mind that we ourselves are judged by our own behavior, but that all with whom we are associated also are affected for ill or for good.

Expressing Sympathy
Dear Mrs. Post: The mother of a man I know died recently. He is living at home with two sisters, one of whom I have met. To whom do I address a card of sympathy?

Answer: To the man.

Money Could Not Be Shared
Dear Mrs. Post: My fiancé's sister will be married soon and he is giving her a substantial amount of money for a wedding present. May this gift be from both of us or am I required to give her a separate present?

Answer: Since it is most unlikely—and not really proper—that any part of that money could come from you, it would be in best taste to give her a small separate gift merely as a token of your good wishes.

Children Reply
Dear Mrs. Post: What can I teach my children to say when they do not understand what has been said to them? It is customary here to say, "Beg pardon," but I always was taught that you beg a person's pardon only for a serious offense.

Answer: You are right. When they trip over someone, spill something over someone or abruptly interrupt, they say, "I beg your pardon." (Never abbreviate this to "Beg pardon.") When not hearing, they say, "I'm sorry I didn't hear" or "I don't understand."

Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Manners in public," E-15, discusses behavior in a bus or streetcar, when meeting a friend; etc. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, New York. Mrs.

Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—The great snowstorm of 1947 gave millions of inhabitants of this fabulous city the first introduction in their lifetime to the real power of nature.

And the first reaction was one of strong disbelief that anything could thus violate the natural laws laid down by city hall and halt the metropolis in its tracks.

Nature here is generally a vague something that causes you to be too hot in the summer, so you go to an air-conditioned movie; or too cold in winter, so you turn on the radiator.

Otherwise nature has very little to do here, where nobody stares at pink elephants but a live cow draws a crowd. The weather is supposed to obey the rules—just like everybody else.

Life in Manhattan moves to the routine of a turning wheel, so it was with uneasy astonishment that strange and that the cliff dwellers saw the storm come down and throttle their city, and halt the wheels that always turned before.

They seemed so soft and harmless, these many-millions and snowflakes, filtering endlessly from a lead-roofed sky. But as the hours passed they thickened into a stick mass that reached higher on churning tires and finally held fast the big vehicles with the power of a hundred surging horses.

One stranded bus a converted old trolley motorman grumbled:

"This'll teach 'em to get rid of trolley cars. Trolley cars never got stuck by the snow." Amazed passengers found it necessary to get out and push many blocks through thigh-high drifts to home. And it was this fact that struck deep into their startled senses—some strange force had finally made it necessary to use their own feet in the city where no one walks but policemen. (And the police complain about it.)

By nightfall New York looked like the scene of a gigantic pillow fight or a desolate chicken-yard waist deep in moist feathers.

A father, mother and their daughter passed a department store as its radio blared out the news that the snow was deeper than any known since Peter Stuyvesant peg-legged along the old Bowery, and the mother said excitedly:

"See, honey, we're making history."

"I'd rather be home than make history," said the little girl grimly.

But New York takes huge delight in bigness of any kind. Times Square when the electric news sign spelled out a bulletin that the snowfall record of the famous blizzard of '88 had been passed, a spontaneous cheer of hometown pride broke out.

To henpecked suburbanites unable to catch trains home the snowfall was a bonanza—an excuse for a night out alone in the big city. So they forked out for beers in midtown pubs, and sang songs with strangers and rollicked in street corner snowball fights.

Walking across the East Side to a subway the next morning, I met a man plodding past stalled buses.

"It's worse down here than'n duh Bronx," he said in dazed wonder. "I live in duh Bronx. Nothing's movin' up there. And down here even less is movin'."

Never before had he seen the traffic torrent of Manhattan, the capital of the universe, capriciously stilled by anything except the majestic hand of a traffic cop. The miracle will remain in the memory of millions here all their days.

It was some snowfall. Out in Hollywood it probably would have been almost terrific.

Holy Name Will Hear Fr. Murphy at Breakfast

The Rev. James Murphy, C.Ss.R., who recently returned after three years' missionary work in South America, will be the guest speaker at the communion breakfast of St. Mary's Holy Name Society on Sunday, January 11. Father Murphy is a native of St. Mary's parish and will be welcomed by a large attendance at the breakfast.

This year the breakfast will be held in St. Mary's Hall immediately following the 8 o'clock Mass. It will be served under the direction of Jake Senor and a committee headed by Gus Kogel. The event will be in the nature of a father and son communion and the members are urged to bring their sons not only to the corporate communion at the 8 o'clock Mass, but also to the breakfast to follow.

Tests have revealed that steam whistles are as inefficient as they are noisy. A 12-inch whistle used 4,000 horsepower in tooting just once.

THREE GRAND MEALS EVERYDAY BY GRAND UNION HOMEMAKERS SERVICE

NEW WAYS FOR THE New Year!

Each year, as homemakers, we face new problems. This year our problems are twofold. Not only do we need to plan nutritionally sound, appetizing meals for the family and buy carefully to keep within the food budget; we also need to consider ways of sharing America's abundant foods. Let us enlist the family's cooperation NOW so that we may share each day in every possible way.

I Will Plan, So That My Family May Share!

I will plan menus so that each member of the family can save at least one slice of bread a day—using other, star-by foods. I will plan to use a variety of protein foods—cheaper meat cuts, variety meats, fish, cheese, peanut butter, beans. I will guard against waste by cooking only the amount of food I believe my family will eat. I will use leftovers in every possible way. I will find new and appetizing ways to use low cost, abundant foods on a menu—especially those that are perishable.

I Will Plan My Menus To Include The "Basic Seven"

There are seven basic food groups as recommended for good nutrition. I will try to include the abundant foods from each group when planning daily meals. GROUP 1—Leafy, green, yellow, vegetable—1 or more servings. GROUP 2—Citrus fruit, tomatoes, raw cabbage—1 or more servings. GROUP 3—Potatoes and other vegetables and fruits—2 or more servings. GROUP 4—Milk, cheese, ice cream—children, 2 to 4 cups milk. GROUP 5—Meat, poultry, fish, eggs, dried peas, beans—1 or 2 servings. GROUP 6—Bread, flour, cereals—whole grain or enriched—every day. GROUP 7—Butter, fortified margarine—some daily.

Happy New Year!

Ulsters, Van Kleeck's Win Two in Valley Loop

Ferraro High With 652 Total

Kingston's Hudson Valley League keggers dropped five out of nine games in the travelling loop yesterday.

Hotel Ulsters won a split decision over Port Jarvis; Van Kleeck's took the odd set from Poughkeepsie Fog-Nash, while Hynes Shous absorbed a three-game drubbing in Middletown at the hands of Lustberg-Nasts.

The Ulsters were overcome by an inspired Port Jarvis squad in the middle set 1007-980, but flanked the losing game with 1068 and 973 for a 3021 series.

Johnny Ferraro snapped out of a slump with a 652 triple on a game of 2155-1070. Johnny Schatzel had 629 with 246-215; Rod Spaulding 203 and Harold Broskie 202-209-602.

Jack Corrado led Port Jarvis with 205-221-604; Lou Dipipi hit 219-212; "Pop" Gransy 212; and Bill Oswick 206-208.

Ackert Hits 604

Lance "Pop" Ackert, Poughkeepsie veteran was the only bowler to reach the 600 mark in the Van Kleeck-Nash match with 606 on 183-199-224. Fred Rice topped the truckmen with 230-596. "Stogie" Robinson shot 213-571; Charlie Grunewald 214-562. Jerry Tenhope had a 202 for the visitors.

Geschwinder Clubs 642

John Geschwinder rolled 642 to pique Lustberg-Nast against Hynes, clicking for sets of 212-223 and 207. Pete Perrino hit 204-202-214-617 and Art Gunderson had 220-606.

Frank "Tarzan" Spada hit 202-559 and Lew Hynes 212-558 for Hynes.

Sugar Bowl Squads

Stress Defenses

New Orleans, Dec. 29 (AP)—With New Orleans bursting at the seams as visitors roll in for the Sugar Bowl mid-winter carnival of sports, the football teams of the University of Alabama and the University of Texas were each emphasizing defense as they prepared for their New Year's game.

At Biloxi, Miss. Coach Harold "Red" Drew had the gates closed to the public today but yesterday had the first two teams working against Texas plays in dummy scrimmage.

The Steers meanwhile, were concentrating on defense against the potent Alabama running and passing attack as they went through their paces at Austin, Tex.

East-West Stars

In Final Tuneup

San Francisco, Dec. 29 (AP)—Heavy practice was ended today as outstanding college stars representing the East and the West tapered off training for the annual Shrine football game in Kezar Stadium New Year's Day for the benefit of crippled children.

Both camps went through only one workout yesterday. Prior to the annual sightseeing trip to Santa Cruz, and opposing coaches scheduled only one session a day from now on.

Coaches Bernie Bierman, Andy Kerr and Howard Odell of the East squad agreed their players were in good mental and physical condition.

Head coach Don Faurot put the Westerners through a two-hour workout yesterday at their Stanford University camp.

Hopped-Up Tennis Balls

Don't Bother Kramer

Pittsburgh, Dec. 29 (AP)—Big Jack Kramer, ex-king of the amateur tennis players who was licked by Bobby Riggs in his first start on the professional circuit last week at Madison Square Garden, says he's convinced the "popped up balls we're using won't hurt me a bit."

As Kramer worked out for tonight's match against Riggs—the second on an international tour that will hit some 70 cities in the U. S., Canada and South America—it came to light special balls are being used in the exhibitions. Promoter Jack Harris of Chicago was quick to acknowledge that—and just as quick to say the balls "come up to all specifications of the United States Lawn Tennis Association."

"The balls are a little bit more lively than those Jack has been used to on the west coast but we're going to continue using them," Harris said. "Both the fans and the players will get a lot of action."

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Losses Announced For Local Fires

Ellenville, Dec. 27—Ellenville firemen have been called upon to fight two fires in less than a week and now are waiting for the alarm that will signal the traditional third.

The first blaze, Saturday, apparently started in or near a storage shed of the Martel Bakery at 81 Center street, conducted by D. Levine and B. Goldfarb. It destroyed the shed and damaged the bakery, the oven building and apartments over the bakery. There also was damage, mostly from water or smoke, to the Schwartz tailor shop and Sam's restaurant, adjoining the bakery. Assistant Chief Benjamin Litchford, who was in charge of the fire-fighting, was unable to give the exact cause of the fire. One suggestion was that it was caused by a short-circuit, another that it might have started from an outside incinerator.

The fire had a good start before it was discovered and the firemen summoned, but they brought it quickly under control after their arrival.

Loss Is $10,000

Estimates placed the loss as high as $10,000. The loss in stock of the bakery being placed at $5,000. In addition there is possible damage to ovens from cold water. The three buildings concerned are owned by the Rothkopf Associates, Inc.

Monday afternoon the firemen were called to The Cape road, near the village limits, where they put out a grass fire.

Saturday night, considerable damage was done to stock, finished goods and machinery, in the Rosenstock factory on Market street, when a sprinkler system on the second floor, rear, let go. Water soaked through to the ground floor. The alarm was automatically sounded, but it was some time before the water could be turned off.

It is announced that Harry Weinsaft, an American born member of the crew of the Exodus, 1947, will speak at the Hebrew Aid Synagogue on the evening of January 4 and will give an eye-witness account of the voyage. The same evening a member of Hagana, just arrived in this country, is scheduled to tell of the work of that organization.

Daughters were born recently at the Veterans' Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Julian Wynkoop of Kerhonkson; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood of Ellenville; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Depuy of Kerhonkson. Hadley Depuy and Frank LeFever of the Ellenville Methodist church are among 19 young people from the Newburgh District who will attend the Methodist Youth Conference to be held in Cleveland December 30 to January 2. There will be an attendance of 10,000 delegates from all over the United States.

The Ellenville unit of the Home Bureau will meet in the Reformed Church parlors the evening of January 6. Mrs. Joseph Kooperman, Ellenville attorney, will speak on "Legal Problems of the Family." Members are asked to bring their husbands to the meeting.

The Ellenville Veterans are backed to play the Woodridge Atoms on the local court on the evening of December 30. The Mt. Vernon Dodgers, who were to have played that night, will appear at a later date.

A group of little girls who have club dues of four cents a week have drawn on their treasury to the amount of $1.75 as a donation to the building fund of the Veterans' Memorial Hospital. Among other donors is Elder G. Hughes, who gives $10 on behalf of the congregation of the Church of Jesus Christ, Ellenville.

It is announced that as a result of the "dissatisfaction and disillusionment of many veterans, particularly of World War II," a new veterans organization is being formed in Ellenville.

Funeral services were conducted in the West Point Post Chapel Wednesday afternoon for Colonel

Dean Stanley Ellenthorpe, who died suddenly from a heart attack on December 21 at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. L. E. Vernon, 83 North Main street, Ellenville. He and his family had planned to spend the holidays in Ellenville. Col. Ellenthorpe, who graduated from West Point in 1923, had wide and extensive military experience. He had served as an Army instructor at West Point, in the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth and as director of instruction at the Anti-Aircraft Artillery School. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Vernon Ellenthorpe, to whom he was married in Ellenville in 1924, and two sons, Stanley Vernon Ellenthorpe, a cadet at West Point, and Donald Owen Ellenthorpe, at home. His mother also is living in Detroit, Mich.

Among students spending the Christmas holidays at home are: Jeanne Moshier of Albany Teachers College; Mary Fredd, Oneonta Normal; and Barbara Fredd, Antioch College; DeWitt Clinton and Kathleen Johnson, Syracuse University; Dorothy See, Cornell University; Maurice E. Rosenstock, Union College; Kathryn Wisdoma, Cortland Normal; Thomas Grant, Trinity College, Hartford; and Charles Grant, Alfred University; Ernest G. Bradley Will Be Chief Of Staff in February

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 29 (AP)—Here to serve as grand marshal of the 59th annual tournament of roses New Years Day, Gen. Omar S. Bradley told newsmen today he expects to assume the duties of chief of staff in mid-February when Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is scheduled to go on terminal leave. "And I'm in favor of universal military training until something better shows itself," he said. The United Nations, he observed, cannot do much more than offer words "and words don't pack much weight these days."

The General and Mrs. Bradley yesterday observed their 31st wedding anniversary. They were married in Columbia, Mo., when he was a first lieutenant in the infantry.

Actress Has Daughter

Hollywood, Dec. 29 (AP)—Actress Deborah Kerr and her first-born daughter, Melanie Jane, both were reported doing well today. The English film player, 26, gave birth of Melanie at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Saturday. The baby weighed seven pounds, 13 ounces. Miss Kerr is married to Tony Bartley, former Royal Air Force aviator.

Janis Paige Married

North Hollywood, Dec. 29 (AP)—Film Actress Janis Paige and Restaurateur Frank Martinelli, Jr., of San Francisco were honeymooning at an undisclosed resort today following their Saturday night wedding at the Little Brown Church in the Valley. The Rev. John H. Wells performed the ceremony.

Most Amendments

More amendments to the U. S. Constitution were adopted during the administration of George Washington than under any other president.

Editors See Reds Weakening in Face Of Marshall Plan

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—As nine American newspaper editors and publishers gave a radio forecast last night of what 1948 has in store for the world, most said they believe Communism is weakening.

The majority on "The Editors Speak" (NBC) program gave opinions that the Marshall plan promises economic recovery abroad, and that at home some check on inflation is needed and will be found. The newspapermen, reviewing events of the past year and offering their views of what 1948 will bring, agreed generally that prospects are good but that there are uncertainties ahead.

Recent Communist defeats in Italy and France were viewed by several as indications that totalitarian influence is waning. Some said the United States has a strengthened international position after recent diplomatic clashes with Russia.

None made any prediction on the outcome of the 1948 presidential election. Those who participated in the program were: Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver, Colo. Post; Philip Graham, publisher of the Washington, D. C. Post; James W. Mulroy, managing editor of the Chicago Sun; J. Hyde Sweet, editor of the Nebraska City Nebraska News-Press; Frank R. Ahlgren, editor of the Memphis, Tenn. Commercial Appeal; George W. Healy, Jr.,

New York Getting Back to Normal in Day, Night Efforts

Deaths in Storm Belt Are Listed at 70; Areas Outside of City in Bad Way

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Transportation links in the New York metropolitan area huddled their greatest test today as millions struggled back to their jobs for the first time since Friday's devastating snowstorm hit the area from Maine to Washington.

Deaths in the storm belt rose to at least 70.

Railroads, with the exception of the Long Island, reported commuter traffic about normal. The Long Island, which was almost completely out of service Friday night and early Saturday, managed to bring its trains in today although they were subject to delays of more than an hour in many instances.

In the city, most principal arteries had been cleared by thousands of workers laboring in day and night shifts since Friday and using more than 2,000 pieces of mechanical equipment.

State streets, solid by below freezing temperatures through the night and morning, were slippery and treacherous for pedestrians and those intrepid motorists who brought out their cars.

In outlying areas, the record 25.8 inches of snow that fell here Friday remained almost untouched and drifts were piled as high as five and six feet. The death toll by states was: New Jersey, 31; New York, 17; Massachusetts, 9; Connecticut, 6; Pennsylvania, 2; Rhode Island, 2; New Hampshire, 2; and Maine, 1. Many fatalities were attributed to heart attacks induced by over-exertion in clearing snow.

City Markets Commissioner Eugene G. Schultz reported deliveries of food were "good" and warned the public against "paying exorbitant prices for food."

All subway lines were operating normally, but bus and trolley lines still were crippled in many places.

Situation in Brief
Deaths toll—70 in area from Maine to Washington, D. C.

New York City
Cost of removal—Estimated from $3,000,000 to $7,000,000.

Removal equipment—20,000 men, 2,000 pieces of equipment and thousands of chartered trucks to remove 25.8 inches of snow, estimated to weigh 99,000,000 tons.

Food—Deliveries 50 per cent of normal, but spokesmen foresee no serious situation developing for "two or three days."

Food supply—Good, with no cause for panic buying.

Transportation—Subways and railroads operating near normal, but delays of over one hour on the Long Island railroad. Bus transportation slow; 80 per cent of normal in some areas.

Witness a Suicide
Brooklyn, Mass., Dec. 29 (AP)—A 39-year-old defense witness for Walter E. Steele, named by Mrs. Bortha Surprent Cote as the slayer of her husband before she was convicted, was found hanging in a garage yesterday—a year to the day that Rene Cote, 35, was slain in his apartment. Medical Examiner H. Leavitt Pierce pronounced Ralph McFadden, a witness for Steele, a suicide and said that he probably had been dead for several days.

King Emanuele III

monarchy, planned to leave today for Alexandria.

Vittorio Emanuele, esteemed by his people after World War I, came under the domination of Mussolini in 1922 when the latter marched on Rome and the king summoned him to form a cabinet.

At the time Marshal Pietro Badoglio was reported to have asked the king to give him a few regiments to smash the Black Shirt uprising, but was turned down because the king wanted to avoid bloodshed.

During the ensuing years, the five-foot-three monarch signed a long series of Fascist decrees. Mussolini placed before him.

The picture finally changed in July, 1943, when Allied victories in the Mediterranean theater showed Italy's true weakness and Vittorio Emanuele played a major role in unseating the dictator to whom he had played yes-man for so many years.

Denunciation Too Late
When finally he found asylum with the Allies, Vittorio Emanuele denounced Mussolini and Hitler.

The Italians remembered too keenly his previous loyalties, however, and called for his abdication.

In 1944 when the Allies took Rome, the king surrendered his power to Umberto as Lieutenant General of the Realm, a move which made him king in name only.

Public feeling remained hostile, and in a final move to save the House of Savoy, Vittorio Emanuele on May 9, 1946, signed a document of abdication in favor of Umberto and sailed with his wife to Alexandria.

A month later the Italians voted in a plebiscite for a Republican form of government.

Vittorio Emanuele, who succeeded to the throne on July 29, 1890, when his father, Umberto I, was assassinated, married Elena, a Montenegrin princess, who stood six inches above him, in Rome in October, 1896.

Had Four Daughters
Besides Umberto the couple had four daughters. Yolanda, the eldest, married Count Calvi Di Bergoglio in 1923.

Mafalda married Prince Philip of Hesse. After Mussolini's downfall she was placed in Buchenwald prison, camp and died there in August, 1944, from bomb wounds suffered during an Allied raid.

Giovanna married King Boris III of Bulgaria in 1936. With her son, King Simeon II, she came to Egypt in September, 1946, after the Bulgarians had voted out the monarchy.

No funeral arrangements have yet been made, but there was no indication the former monarch would be returned to Italy to lie in the Pantheon niche once assigned to him.

Famous Sea Diver Dies
New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Charles Courtney, 57, master locksmith who participated in a number of deep sea adventures, died today.

He made several trips to Europe on salvage missions, the high spot of which came when he and two divers were caught by an undersea current in the North Sea and held prisoner for 30 minutes against the side of the wrecked British cruiser Hampshire in 1933. Courtney suffered a broken left hand, a wound in his side and his hair turned gray. He went to Europe on other ventures as a royalty-hired "Jimmy Valentine" to open old chests for former European ruling families.

Two centuries ago, men who served on juries in Cape Cod communities were prohibited from chewing tobacco.
